FUTURE FIRST IMMERSION PROPOSAL

Get to the Future First!

*...the 10 skills your organization needs to thrive
in the Fourth Industrial Revolution*

According to World Economic Forum 2020 (WEF), in few years from now, over one-third of skills (35%) that are considered important in today's workforce will have changed.

Lead the revolution in your industry by equipping your top-performers with these vital skills.

"According to many industry observers, we are today on the cusp of a Fourth Industrial Revolution."
–WEF Future of Jobs.

Your organization should thrive to position herself in the league of global organizations as a front-liner in developing the skills of the future in your employees.

Tufts Management School, an accredited British degree pathway and executive education institution, is poised to facilitate the learning of the future of job skills. With faculty from top institutions, rich management and consulting background, we deliver the best.

Developing your Program

We follow a proven four-phase process creating and delivering meaningful, successful customer initiatives. In the spirit of co-creation, we work with you before, during and after solution implementation to ensure its enduring success.

Phase 1: Discover

Together we identify your priorities, issues and objectives to ensure complete understanding of the challenges.

Phase 2: Design

We determine program objectives and create specific custom solution content and approach.

Phase 3: Deliver

Faculty presents programs and services customized to your defined needs.

Phase 4: Deploy

We assist you in implementing solution concepts, and measure and evaluate results for long term success.
